night General Porter called upon Pleasonton with a verbal message present indications the matter will be President at noon suspended Pleason-ton under the tenure of office set, and appointed Deputy Commissioner

Douglas in his place. A UKASE FROM GRANT. To day, the President sent to General Pleasonton the following:

EXECUTIVE MANSION Washington, August 8, 1871.
You are hereby suspended from the office of commissioner of internal revenue, in accordance with the terms of the act approved April 5, A. D. 1869, in spite of the strict prohibition of the authorities. The sentiment of a majority of the people is in favor to amend an act regulating the tenure of certain civil offices, passed March 2, 1869, and subject to all the proviions of law applicable thereto [Signed] U.S. GRANT.
On receiving this notification,
Pleasonton vacated the office, leaving for his successor the following note: To J. W. Douglass, Pirst Deputy Com-missioner of the Internal Revenue -Having this day been sus- by the royal party were gutted by the was laid this evening with imposing

A. PLEASONTON. This letter was accompanied by a friendship, and support of the President in future. Within two hours Richard Moore, after the receipt of Pleasonton's comnunication, the President sent to him a notification of his suspension. The immediate causes assigned in Pleasonton are that the internal revenne was not collected with efficiency for effect, which were unnecessary to order that there might be harmony in the working of the Treasury Depart-
